

XM radio has the right to be on the air as much as anyone else. All the other stations should provide better service so they can increase the number of listeners. People become threatened when other people do well and instead of searching there own services, they try to limit others. Leave XM alone.....